IMPROVEMENT SHOWN BY THE TIGERS-LAST HARD PRACTICE TO-DAY.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 21.—Secret practice covered the entire routine of the gridiron work again to-day on Osborne Field, and the Tigers put up desperate efforts to make the best possible showing against the scrub team. Brisk, snappy signal practice was oun through for half an hour, and considerable attention was given to kicks, after which the team lined up for twenty minute halves against the

The playing showed a slight improvement over yesterday's work. The 'varsity succeeded in get-ting two touchdowns in the first half and one in the second half, and kept the scrubs from crossing their goal line. A noticeable improvement was made on interference. Some of the coaches attribute the 'varsity's scoring to a weak scrub, but the students are beginning to feel more encouraged as to the outcome of Saturday's game. Several changes were noticed in the team's makeup. Hillebrand, Mills, McCord and Hutchinson had a rest and watched the practice from the side lines. Lathrope and Knight were put in at halfback and did creditable work. "Eddie" Burke played quarter and ran the team well. Wheeler and Mattis alternated at fullback. The former showed improvement on running back punts. Roper and Harry Reiter parti-ipated in signal practice. Duncan played extremely well at quarter on the scrub, and played extremely well at quarter on the scrub, and ofresham Foe, end on the scrub, caused a sensation by circling Palmer's end on a double pass for twenty-five yards and later repeating the trick around Poe's end for twenty more. He would have scored a touchdown on this only for Burke, who dropped him on the twenty yard line. The only accident to-day was a slight injury to Booth's ankle. ankle.

After a hard practice to-morrow the team will enjoy a rest until the Yale game.

VALE BELIEVES SHE WILL WIN.

A VICTORY OVER PRINCETON LOOKED FOR-PLANS FOR THE WEEK AT NEW-HAVEN. New-Haven, Nev. 21 (Special).-Captain McBride,

while in pretty good shape, will be especially cautious in his work this week in practice. The strain and worry over the eleven have told on him, and he is in need of a good rest. He has no longer any cause for anxiety, for he, with all Yale men, feel pretty confident of winning from the Tigers next Saturday, unless the latter show much better form han they have shown so far.

Before the game, however, the team will be pol-ished off in many places. The work of the ends last Saturday was not good, and they were in great contrast to Campbell and Hallowell. With another week of training Hubbell, who has been in the game less than two weeks, will improve under Hinkey's careful coaching and will surely line up at left end. It seems probable that Gould will play on the other end, since Gibson did not show up well against Harvard, and Snitzer, while a great improvement, was by no means up to the form of a Cund, now will not be reinstated. The former is one of the finds of the year, and if he had a few years more to play would without doubt be ranked one of Yale's greatest stars. Especially in the second half he seemed to outplay the veteran Burnett, and earned great praise from all lovers of the game. At this late date no further changes will be made in the Yale lineup, except possibly at quarterback. Fincke, while playing a fast, offensive game and running the team in the most approved style, was weak in catching and runfensive game and running the team in the most approved style, was weak in catching and running back punts. His substitute, Wear, is distinctly superior in the back field, but does not run the team with as much science and headwork. In the beginning of the season a great mistake was made when John De Saulles, because he was a brother of Charles De Saulles, one of the best quarterbacks Yale ever had, received the position on the college eleven, while Wear was forced to play on the third eleven. There, because of the poor work of the rest of the team, he had no fair chance to show his ability. Only recently, when De Saulles was forced to He off because of a sprained ankle, has Wear played on the college eleven, and in catching and running back punts he has outclassed the varsity man. Although it is not probable that he will start the Princeton game, he will be a good substitute if the regular man is forced to retire.

Manager Rockefeller has announced that the applications for seats had been very great, and he expects that every one next Saturday will be filled. The undergraduate tickets were distributed this morning, and at the same time tickets were mailed to graduates. Preparations are being made for cheering and singing the new songs written especially for the game. The newly formed university band will be on hand to furnish the music and play during the intervals. Twenty formed university band will be entered the team on to victory, and will cheer the players no less heartily should defeat be their portion.

PENN PRACTISING AGAIN.

Philadelphia, Nov. 21.-All the members of the University of Pennsylvania football team were out on Franklin Field to-day, and started the practice for the Cornell game, which will be played here on Thanksgiving Day. The men had not been required to report for practice since last Friday, and they showed considerable improvement in their physical condition as a result of the layoff. The practice to-day was full of dash. The 'varsity was lined up against the scrub for some time, and made several touchdowns without much effort. Kennedy played at quarter, and the plays were run off quickly and smoothly.

DEAD HEAT BETWEEN M'FONSO AND GOV-ERNOR GRIGGS IN THE HUR-

Washington, Nov. 21.-The Hurdle Handicap race of a mile and three-quarters over seven hurdles was the feature at Bennings to-day. The finish was one of the best ever seen in a jumping race. McFonso and Governor Griggs passing under the wire in a dead heat, with Charagrace a nose behind them and Julius Cæsar, the favorite, just a neck in the rear. A splendid start sent the ten horses off so close together that in the first furlong there was a lot of messing and jostling, as the re sult of which Watchman was thrown out of his suit of which Watchman was thrown out of his stride and his jockey, Dayton, upset, but he was not severely injured. Watchman went over the course riderless. Not a single favorite to-day redeemed the hope put in him by his backers. The stewards of the club, after investigating Mc-Inerny's ride on Sibley in a steeplechase on Saturday last, have taken up his license for this meeting, and will recommend to the National Hunt and Steeplechase Association that the same be revoked. TROTTERS LOST ON THE PATRIA. ELEVEN FAST HORSES BOUND FOR AUSTRIA PERISH AT SEA.

Vienna, Austria, Isador Schlesinger, reported at the Garden sale yesterday a heavy loss of trotting stock on the ill fated steamer Patria, which sailed from this port on November 4. For nearly a month Schlesinger had been making purchases in America, and had shipped eleven high class trotters, with their sulkies, harness and other paraphernalia, costing upward of $1,000, on the Patria. The Austrian horsemen suffered a loss something like $15,000 or $20,000, as they carried no insurance, and all were lost. Red Nutling, 2:13, by Red Wilkes, out of Nutilla, by Nutwood, grand dam Hildegarde, by Harold, was the fastest trotter Frances C. Meyers, of Oakland, Cal., who shipped her dam all the way from California to Kentucky to be bred to Red Wilkes. It was at the Detroit Grand Circuit meeting in 1895 that Red Nutling started in the $10,000 Merchant and Manufacturers' Stakes. The eight-year-old bay stallion Esporto Rex. of Expressive, 2:114, by Electioneer, grand dam the thoroughbred mare Esther, by Express, was probof Expressive, 2:114, by Electioneer, grand dam the thoroughbred mare Esther, by Express, was probably the most valuable horse in the collection. The horse was bred by the late Governor Leland Stanford at Palo Alto, and made his record in this year's campaign. He was one of the best bred trotters ever shipped to Europe, and was bought with a view to piacing him in the stud there when his racing days were over.

The valuable black mare Geraldine, 2:164, by Eddie C., a son of Pocahontas Prince, 2:204, was also lost. This mare came out green in 1888 at Cleveland, gaining a record of 2:234 late in the season. In the campaign of 1898 she cut the mark down to 2:164, winning several good races.

The collection also included the high bred bay stallion Aristocrat, 2:254, by Wilton, 2:134, out of Owenee, by Alcantara, 2:25, kpand dam Wenoma, by Curtis's Hambletonian. The horse was bred by P. S. Ta.hert, former president of the Kentucky Horse Breeders' Association, and made his record at Lexington last year. The gray mare Lucy Cooper, 2:20, by Favorite Wilkes, Jacob Ruppert's well known trotting sire, and several others of demonstrated speed completed the collection.

Thus far Mr. Schlesinger has made more purchases than any other European buyer at the Garden sale. He purchased on Monday the green two-year-old colt My Trick, by Milrol, from Marcus Daly's lot, for $25; the brown mare Flora Directum, by William E. Spier's champion stallion Directum, by William E. Spier's champion stal

SUNLAND BELLE SOLD TO C. K. G. BILLINGS. At the horse sale in Madison Square Garden yesterday it was reported that C. K. G. Billings had bought the great pacer Sunland Belle, 2:0814, who was struck off to M. McDonald on Monday $3,025. Sunland Belle was a formidable rival of Bumps, 2:034, last September when both pacers were trying to capture the wagon record. Sunland Belle, driven by Harry Devereux, started at Cleveland on September 16 to eclipse the performance of Bumps, who had been driven to a record of 2:08% to road wagon at Terre Haute by Mr. Billings two days before. She covered the mile in 2:07½, a performance which no harness horse ever equalled to road wagon with an amateur driver up. She has paced a mile to sulky in 2:04½. Mr. Billings may hook the two rival pacers to pole in a trial for the champtonship team record, 2:08½, now held by John R. Gentry, 2:00½, and Robert J., 2:01½. Bumps, 2:03½, Lucille, 2:09½, Franker, 2:21½, and the other trotters and pacers brought here by Mr. Billings last month from Chicago to drive on the Speedway were shipped to Memphis, Tenn., yesterday under instructions from their owner, who left here last week to close the saie of the Manhattan Oil Company for $2:00:000 to an English syndicate. Mr. Billings is going to take his road horses South for a month's sport at Memphis, where he has extensive business interests. It was his manager at Memphis who recently bought the crack trotter Battleton, 2:05%, from C. J. Hamilin. two days before. She covered the mile in 2:071/2, a

SCHOONERS MAY RACE FOR THE CUP.

THE NEW LIPTON CHALLENGER LIKELY TO BE A TWO MASTER.

Glasgow, Nov. 21.-It is now regarded here as a certainty that the next Cup challenger will be a schooner, and that she will be designed by F. L. Watson for Sir Thomas Lipton. The challenge which names this schooner will be for

The news that Sir Thomas Lipton would chal-lenge with a schooner for 1901 created no surprise among New-York yachtsmen yesterday. The advantages accruing to a challenger from the other side of the ocean in having a two masted vessel built to sail for the Cup were fully discussed when C. L. Orr-Ewing was expected to challenge with his schooner Rainbow, which was designed by Watson about three years age. In putting in sels are limited to a ninety foot waterline length, while schooners are limited to 115 feet in this dimension. As the water line length of the Rainbow was exactly at the limit allowed by the deed of gift it was regarded as highly probable that the owner intended to challenge with the new vessel. No challenge arrived, but it is not doubted that Watson was experimenting with a new vessel that had all the requisite dimensions for Cup schooner racing. At that time it threw a damper Scotland and said that the planking of the Rainbow on local hopes when Clinton Crane returned from Scotland and said that the planking of the Rainbow was three inches thick, according to his own measurement. This news, given exclusively in The Tribune, showed that the Orr-Ewing schooner was not intended for the America's Cup, as she would be carrying many tons too much dead weight to give her a hope of winning against a light metal craft such as the Herreshoffs have turned out in the Defender and subsequently in the Columbia. Mr. Orr-Ewing has determined to take the Rainbow out of the racing field.

It is thought that one reason Sir Thomas Lipton has decided on a schooner is that he expects the defending vessel to be more solidly built and to contain proportionately more weight than a cutter. This, it has been said, might be expected to equalize things more when the challenging vessel has to have a good deal of material in her to give her strength to cross the ocean. There may be something in this supposition, though it also seems reasonable to expect that the builder of the defending schooner will economize in upper surplus weight as much in proportion as with a cutter. Some people have asked why the Columbia could not be used to oppose the challenging schooner. As to this it may be said that the Columbia is limited, as a single masted vessel, to a ninety-foot waterline, while the schooner waterline may be surement. The Columbia's racing length is 102.155, and if the schooner's race at 85 per cent of their racing length, while cutters sail at their full measurement. The Columbia's racing length is 102.155, and if the schooner's race at 85 per cent of their racing length, while cutters sail at their full measurement. The Columbia's racing length is 102.155, and if the schooner's racing length in reality should be, say, 125 feet, she would sail at 85 per cent of this, and the difference in racing length to be paid for in time allowance by her would then be less than there feet. On the other hand, she would enjoy the advantage of a waterline that was over twenty-den, with another large crowd in attendance. Richard Croker paid the top price, $3,300, for the trotter Kentucky Union, 2:07%. It is said that he bought her to drive in the Speedway. The Tammany chieftain was represented in the bidding by the well known reinsman, "Jack" Curry, who campaigned Kentucky Union two years ago, and it was largely on Curry's advice that Mr. Croker made the pureen campaigned ever since she was a three-yearold, yet her legs are as clean and round as were when "Sam" Fuller brought her up from Mis-souri in 1892 and astonished the trotting fraternity beating Directum with her in a great race at by beating Directum. With the two crack youngsters met again in October of that year at Nashville. Tenn., and trotted the greatest three-year-old race on record. The admirers of each one believed his favorite to be invincible. "Tucky" made the black colt go to the half in 1:04% and come home in 2:11% to beat her, but he did it, and in straight heats. The filly had been raced until she was a mere shadow, however, and there are still many horsemen who believe that with more careful handling she could have beaten the greatest three-year-old ever foaled. Her hard campaign in 1892 seemed to sour her high strung temperament for a time, and she only lowered her three-year-old record of 2:13% to 2:11% when she came out again in 1895. In the following year, however, she proved to be one of the best trotters of a great year, winning race after race against the fastest horses in training, and trotting three heats at Indianapolis in 2:07%, 2:07%, 2:09. n 1898 she gained a record of 2:10% to wagon, making the second fastest performance on record. She rotted in 2:08 in her first race last scason, but was not prominent in the campaign.

At the time Kentucky Union made her record she wore a boot wherever there was a place to put one, and was rigged with a rope around her neck to aid controlling her in scoring on the track. She was known as a mare of bad disposition, and few horse-men would have picked her out to drive on the and to be one of the best tempered trotters in the world. All her rigging and boots have been thrown away, and she trots without any artificial appli-ances whatever. "Jack" Curry thinks she will be the queen of the Speedway. Mr. Croker's new trotter was bred by General W. T. Withers, of Lexington, Ky., and was got by Aberdeen, a son of Hambletonian, formerly owned by Captain Isaiah Rhyndens, of New-York. Her dam, Kentucky Central, was quite a trotter in her day. She made a record of 2:31 many years ago. Another notable transaction yesterday was the purchase of the old pacing mare Gold Leaf, 2:114, by John H. Shults. About ten years ago, when her four-year-old mark of 2:114 was not far from the fastest on record, Mr. Shults paid $8,000 for Gold Leaf. A few years ago he consigned her to the sale ring, and she was bought by J. W. Daly, of Mount Kisco. for something like $600. Yesterday Mr. Shults bought her back for $209. She is now in her fifteenth year.

The well known White Plains pacer Dan M., 2.094, was among the horses sold yesterday in the consignment of J. W. Daly. He was purchased by Alta McDonald, the Albany trainer, who was acting for Charles Barnum, of Lime Rock, Conn.

The sons and daughters of the champion stallion Allerton, 2.094, in the consignment of C. W. Williams, of Galesburg, Ill., will be sold to-day.

BILLIARDS.

POGGENBURG BEATS KEENEY IN THE IN-

TERCITY AMATEUR TOURNAMENT. In the intercity amateur billiard tournament last and Broadway, Poggenburg (300) beat Keeney (280) by 300 to 255, and thus increased his lead for first honors in the tournament. This was his fourth successive victory, and he has only one more game to play, when he meets Stark in the final game on Friday night.

Both of the experts played fast billiards through-Both of the experts played fast billiards throughout the game last evening, and the lead alternated. A run of 35 in his twenty-second inning, however, put Poggenburg ahead once more by 189 to 151, and he followed this with 25, 13 and 17 in successive innings, which gave him a commanding advantage. Keeney's play improved toward the end, however, and he gathered in runs of 14, 13 and 39 so close together that his total climbed up to 225 against 250 for Poggenburg.

Then the Liederkranz Club expert steadily pulled away again, and a run of 15 in his thirty-seventh inning clinched the victory, although it required five more innings to run out his last four carroms. Poggenburg's average was 75-42, and his best runs 35, 31, 27 and 25, while Keeney made runs of 33, 34 and 32, with an average of 63-41. This evening Stark (300) plays Townsend (280).

PRIVATE WATCHMAN ACCUSED.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING A MAN AND FRACTURING HIS SKULL.

Thomas Loughlin, forty-three years old, of No 1,264 Second-ave., a watchman employed by William C. Whitney, the Vanderbilt estate, ex-Mayor Strong and others for many years, was arrested last night, charged with assault on John A. Gazzola, twenty-five years old, of No. 107 West Forty-ninthst. Gazzola's skull was fractured, and his face was Hospital, and his condition is serious.

much bruised. He was taken to the Pressylerian Hospital, and his condition is serious.

About midnight Bicycle Policemen Collins and Boettier were approached near the Plaza Hote; by a man who told them an unconscious and bleeding man lay in front of the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Auchincloss, No. 11 West Pifty-seventh-st. They went there and found Gazzola. They sent him to the hospital, and then began an investigation. While they were looking around they met Edward Cavanagh, eighteen years old, a messenger boy, of No. 851 Sixth-ave. He told them he had witnessed the assault.

He said the man with a friend had acted in a disorderly manner, and had been approached by Loughlin. The latter ordered the men to move on. Gazzola knocked Loughlin's heimet off, and the watchman, according to the messenger boy, broke his eighteen inch locust club over Gazzola's head, felling him to the ground. Cavanagh says he was so close to the watchman that he himself had to dedge to avoid the blow.

The policeman found Loughlin. He admitted having had some words with Gazzola, but said that he had not used his club, and had merely pushed the man over. He was arrested and taken before Sergeant Mott, at the Bicycle Squad headquarters, and then to the East Sixty-seventh-st, station. Loughlin said he had been employed on the block where the trouble took place for twenty-five years.

PRESIDENT'S COURTESY APPRECIATED.

TRIBUTE FROM THE GENERAL MISSIONARY COM-MITTEE OF THE METHODIST EPIS-COPAL CHURCH.

Washington, Nov. 21 (Special).-The General Missionary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which has been in session here for a week past, appropriating nearly $1,250,000 of missionary money, adjourned this afternoon. A sub-committee, consisting of Bishops Bowman and the Rev. Drs. Upham and Buckley and General Rusling, called on the President yesterday and

This General Missionary Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church desires to record its high appreciation of the thoughtfulness and courtesy of His Excellency the President of the United States, in tendering to our bishops and the members of this committee a gracious reception at the Executive Mansion on the evening of November 16, and we desire hereby in behalf of ourselves and of the three millions of American Christians we represent to thank him cordially for the same.

The Methodist Episcopal Church believes in the history, the dignity and the destiny of this great Republic, as a Providential institution among men to uplift, civilize and Christianize our fellow men, and will continue to labor for its honor and welfare. We believe President McKinley to be actuated by lofty motives, and hall him as a worthy successor to the illustrious men who have preceded him in the Presidency. We greet and congratulate him on his able administration of our public affairs, both at home and abroad, and as a broad minded patriot, as a Christian man, as a devoted husband, and God fearing American statesman, may Heaven bless and preserve and guide him in the execution of his great office! bless and preserve and guide him in the execution of his great office!

of the tenement house problem" to be held in ary next under the auspices of the Tenement House Committee of the Charity Organization Society was given out last night by the committee. The plan comprehends the exhibition of models of tenements as they exist to-day, and of tenements scientifically planned. It also comprehends studies of existing model tenements in the cities of this country and in foreign cities, of suburban tenements, lodging houses and hotels for wage earmers, a study of parks, libraries, baths, recreation plers, of tenement house conditions and laws, and a bibliography of the tenement house question. It is proposed to hold a series of conferences and discussions at the same time. The exhibition is to be held in both the tenement and residential districts of the city, and if practicable it is to be repeated in other cities, and sent to the Paris Exposition, finally finding a permanent place in this city. A special competition, open to all architects, for an average city block of model tenements is included in the plan, and any information regarding it can be obtained from Lawrence Veiller, secretary of the Tenement House Committee, No. 105 plan comprehends the exhibition of models of ten

**NO HITCH IN SAMOAN AGREEMENT.**

London, Nov. 21.—The statement contained in a special dispatch from Washington received here, reporting a hitch in the final settlement of the Samoan agreement, is denied here officially. It is said that the United States Government signified its assent to the agreement prior to the publication of the terms, and that while this has not yet been a special dispatch from Washington received here, reporting a hitch in the final settlement of the Samoan agreement, is denied here officially. It is said that the United States Government signified its assent to the agreement prior to the publication of the terms, and that while this has not yet been in the ticket would seem to me injurious rather than beneficial confidence, of morality generalization upon vice among ment.

That a statement pronouncing the majority of American men, married or single, unchaste is quite unwarranted by the facts, I have no doubt. The public utterance of such a statement, whatever its would seem to me injurious rather than beneficial to the interests of purity, of wedlock, of social confidence, of morality generally. While such an expression cannot weaken the foundations of truth or of the Christian religion, it would be apt, I should think, to produce an unwholesome distrust, to encourage the evil-minded in practical recklessiness and to disturb that faith in the reality of goodness which is a part of faith in God.

formally given it is understood that the matters pending between the United States and Germany are unimportant details, in no way threatening a successful termination of the agreement, and by no means constituting a hitch. Among the details are the native question, the Cornwall and McArthur case, and the Samoan land disputes, which have been in progress for years.

HOSTILITY UP THE STATE.

STRONG OPPOSITION TO A STATE POLICE. BILL BY REPUBLICAN POLITICIANS IN

ficials of the State capital expressed much inter-

Albany, Nev. 21 (Special).-The Republican of-

est to-day in the result of the conference Governor Roosevelt intends to hold in New-York with Senator Platt upon the State police bill, for most of them perceive from the tone of their local newspapers that the measure is not a popular one. One of 'he most significant developments of hostility to the bill is that of the Republican pollticians who live in the second class cities of the State-Albany, Troy, Syracuse and Rochester-in which charter elections have just taken place. In three of these cities-Rochester, Albany and Troy-Republican administrations will come into power on January 1, and these administrations to all appearances are unwilling to relinquish their control of the local police to State authority, even if that authority be in Republican hands. It is also argued by those acquainted with the heads of these administrations that they do not like the precedent which would be established of State control of local police administrations if the State police bill should become a law, a precedent which, it is said, would

cially fear, therefore, to make such a precedent. NEWSPAPER COMMENT.

come into power, and the police force of the cities of the State should be seized by it. Rochester is usually a Republican city, and its politicians espe-

Republican newspapers in almost every city in the interior of the State have condemned the bill. One of the latest to do so is "The Troy Times." eration, since it is the newspaper organ of ex-Governor Frank S. Black, and undoubtedly also reflects the opinion of the three Republican Assemblymen-elect from Rensselaer County, "The Times"

thus condemns the act:

So far as the cities of the second class are concerned, a new charter for those cities will go into effect January 1. That charter represents the best thought, the most careful and most deliberate thought, of the Republicans of this State. The charter provides for the management of local police forces. That provision should be given enough opportunity for trial to go through the experimental stage at least.

So far as Troy is concerned, this city has just unseated the powers responsible for police maladministration in Troy and has inducted a new resgime. This change, made possible by the wisdom of Republican leaders and the loyal adherence of the members of the Republican party means that in the management of the police force of this city than the management of the police force of this city than the principles of police management for which the Republican party has always contended in Troy that were successful at the last election. The Republicans of Troy wish to see that victory bring its legitimate fruits without State interference.

The sentiment of other cities so far as manifested, seems to be against the State's taking out of local hands a department which in the present circumstances is one of domestic management.

If viewed as no more than a question of partisan expediency, it behooves the Republican party on the eve of such an election as that of 1900 to beware of giving offence to any large portion of the State electorate.

This statement about the danger of "giving oftence to any large portion of the State electorate is presumed to refer to the sentiments of the anti-Bryan Democrats who have lately voted with the Republican party. Those new here seem unanimously opposed to the State Police bill.

SENTIMENT IN SYRACUSE. Syracuse on November 7 chose a Democratic Mayor, but, nevertheless, "The Post-Standard," poses the State Police bill. It says: On general principles "The Post-Standard" holds that the police powers of the cities should be in the hands of the cities themselves. It also believes—and upon this point it has no doubt whatever—that if the Republican party leaders of the State have sense they will leave this Constabulary bill severely alone.

It is highly probable that "The Rochester Post-Express" directly represents the sentiments of Senators Armstrong and Parsons when it says:

Senators Armstrong and Parsons when it says:

This statement is an insult to the two Senators. They were against the bill at the legislative session of 189 as a matter of principle, and they will be against it again. There is nothing in the records of Senator Parsons and Senator Armstrong to afford any warrant for the assertion that they would stuitify themselves, or take part in any contemptible political deal like this. The State Constabulary bill cannot be passed without the votes of Senator Parsons and Senator Armstrong. By their prompt declaration of hostility to the measure at the last session they prevented it from being brought forward. They regard the bill as vicious in principle, as unnecessary and unpopular. For their independence at the last session they earned and received the applause of the people. They are not the men to go back on their records now.

The only newspaper of prominence in the interior of the State which has favored the bill is "The Al-Mr. Barnes's support of the measure, however, is not very vigorous, for "The Journal makes this admission:

While Mr. Barnes's newspaper thus speaks for the bill, Mr. Barnes's Heutenants are openly declaring their opposition to it. Like the Republican politicians of Rocnester, they prefer to control the

Mr. Aldridge is believed here to be still of the same opinion. The Rochester Senators, it is said, might be induced to vote for a bill in regard to the Police Department of New-York, but not one affecting Rochester. Senator George A. Davis, of Buffalo, is believed to be of the same opinion. Senator White, of Syracuse, also, it can be suspected, at heart is opposed to the State Police bill.

Politically, we are not so sure that the advantages will rest with the Republican party. The attempt to pass a bill of this kind will be met with most serious opposition. The old "home rule" scare will be worked for all it is worth, and many a Republican will become frightened that the party will go to rack and ruin if such a bill is passed. Independent voters who are now casting their lines with the Republican party will be alienated, it is claimed, by this fearful "grab for patronage" proposed by the State Republican organization.

Judging from the drift of the talk of most of the Republican officials in the State capital, they think the bill is already dead. They frankly declare it to be their opinion that even if Governor Roosevelt and Senator Platt should support the measure they do not believe it possible to pass the bill in the State Senate.

George W. Aldridge, of Rochester, the Republican leader in that city, said to Governor Roosevelt six months ago, when the Legislature was considering the State Police bill, which was killed owing to the opposition of the two Senators from Rochester. "I do not believe it wise to give killing medicine to Rochester because New-York happens to be sick."
